Mount Vernon Junior College

Washington, D.C.

Dedication

MRS. PHYLLIS WEIR

You have spread your infectious enthusiasm for your subject through-out your classes, have peppered your teaching with wry wit, and have given us "aid" that no other instructor has given. You have driven us on by your insistence on excellence and have encouraged and supported us by your warm friendship. You have mastered the science of biology and the art of teaching it. The Class of 1961 affectionately dedicates the BELL COTE to you.

CLASS SONG

You are dear to us, Mount Vernon,
 For all the memories we share
 Holding in our hearts forever
 All thy love and care.

We are gathered here, Mount Vernon
 From near and far we have come
 Under green and gold united,
 Here's to Class of '61.

CLASS SONG

Hail, to Mount Vernon!
Steadfast and true;
Forward on to triumph
The class of '62.

Facing each challenge
Strengthened are we,
Green and white will lead us
On to victory.

United we stand
And divided we fall,
For the rest of our lives
All for one; one for all.

Time will reveal us,
Striving to be
Symbols of thy wisdom
Taking pride in thee.

Optima

President — Anne Bailey

Secretary-Treasurer — Allen Howell

Faculty Adviser — Miss Flora Bridges

Optima, the scholastic honor society, is open to students who achieve the status of honors or of honorable mention for three out of four consecutive quarters and who maintain high standards of citizenship. Optima activities included a supper with Miss Bridges, followed by a coffee and dessert party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Maurer. Members served as escorts through Washington to a group of visiting Chilean students. The year's concluding activity was a picnic at Great Falls.

CO-OPERATIVE COUNCIL

Co-operative Council originated in 1950 as a Faculty-Student Committee to serve as the major governing body for student life. It considers all problems of the student body which affect major policy decisions, enacts legislation and makes recommendations to the Administration. The Council is also the medium through which the faculty and Administration present their opinions and suggestions to the student body.

Student Court

Student Court is the judicial body of the College and is composed of two Seniors, two Freshmen and the Presidents of the houses. The President of the Student Body presides over Court meetings, at which cases involving major breeches of the Social Honor Code and cases referred to it by the House Councils are dealt with.

Social League

Top: Lucy Radcliff, Nancy Wheaton, Kirke White, Ann Guthrie, Margaret Bird, Sandra Martens. Middle: Maria Garcia, Trina Cox. Bottom: Anne Bailey, Elfrida Barrow

The Social League is responsible to Cooperative Council for planning and carrying out the school's social program. It is composed of representatives elected from each of the houses and is directed by a President elected by the student body as a whole. In cooperation with the Dean of Student Activities, the League assisted in making plans for the Christmas Dance, the May Weekend and for several mixers and also initiated such activities as a student-faculty bridge tournament and the performance at Mount Vernon of the Princeton Tiger Tones.

Bell Cote, Mount Vernon's yearbook, takes its name from the bell tower which was originally projected in plans drawn for the new college campus after the Second World War. Although the bell tower as such was never built, the old college bell was returned to the school a decade ago and is now housed in the bell house adjacent to Somers House—and it is this bell house which forms the design motif for this year's book. Planning and editing of the yearbook is done by the undergraduate staff under the leadership of its Editor and a board of Section Editors. Although the yearbook is conceived primarily as a memento of the graduating class, it also serves as a pictorial chronicle of the Mount Vernon year for all undergraduates.

One of the most consistently active of Mount Vernon student organizations, the Glee Club presents several formal programs through the year and leads the college procession and provides music for the weekly chapel and for the vesper services. The Club's two major productions of the past year were a program of Christmas music and a selection of popular songs presented as part of the Father's Day entertainment, selections which included the Irish folk song "I Know Where I'm Going", and "Summertime" and "It Ain't Necessarily So" from Gershwin's Porgy and Bess.

The Drama Club undertakes to keep alive a tradition of student theater at Mount Vernon. For its 1960-61 season the Club staged two productions. The first of these, put on shortly before Christmas holidays, was a pair of one-act plays entitled "A Sunny Morning In Spain" and "Joint Owners". The second producduction, put on as part of the Father's Day entertainment, was an unusual work entitled "Two Sides of Darkness" by Edwin Procnier. The scenes of this drama were laid alternately in ancient Greece and in contemporary America with unifying themes presented and elaborated by the device of a spoken chorus.

LEND-A-HAND

Lend-A-Hand, Mount Vernon's social service organization, carried out an active program. At Thanksgiving, members made up food baskets from student contributions and distributed them to families named by the Salvation Army. At Christmas, student donations of toys were taken to the D.C. Junior Village, and the Club sponsored Christmas caroling at the Home for the Incurables. Meanwhile, throughout the year a number of members served as Gray Ladies at several Washington hospitals.

ROMANCE LANGUAGE CLUB

The former French and Spanish Clubs were combined this year into a Romance Language Club in the hope that a larger club could sponsor a more varied schedule of activities. The program for this year included a sing-song at which Monsieur Marcel Vigneras taught the group some French and Spanish songs; a lecture-recital on Ravel's music by Mr. William Eckert; a trip to the National Gallery of Art for a lecture demonstration on Contemporary French and Spanish Paintings; and a visit to the Pan American Union Building. The year's activities ended with a supper party given by Mrs. Vigneras at her home.

History Seminar

L. to R.: Kristin Cox, Alice Hartle, Carol Miller, Judith Fraser, Ellen Howell, Lucy Littell, Adviser—Mr. Edward Graham

The History Seminar was organized during the Spring Term, not so much as a history club but rather as an experiment in informal, small-group discussion of a topic of common interest. The Seminar met weekly in the Field House and over coffee and sandwiches the members pursued a progressive discussion of the events leading up to the Second World War.

Interest in world affairs found its focus this year in the organization of a Mount Vernon chapter of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations—a national organization which seeks to promote understanding of the UN and of America's role in the UN. The Mount Vernon chapter secured membership in the American Association for the United Nations and delegates from the school took part in the Eleventh Annual Conference of National Organizations of the AAUN in Washington and attended a mock UN convention at Howard University.

Athletic Council

All athletic activities, both inter-collegiate and intramural, are sponsored by the Athletic Council. The membership is composed of students elected by the previous year's leaders who are actively interested in promoting school spirit and participation in sports. Formerly called "The Leaders", the council strives to generate interest in athletics throughout the student body and to stimulate participation in the various sports. At the end of each year, Freshmen who have demonstrated interest in these activities are admitted to membership in the Council for the following year.

Ingenuities

Ingenuities, a traditional contest between the Seniors and Freshmen since 1920, took place this year on January Seventh. Both classes were given a list of topics which were to be prepared and presented in twenty-four hours. The topics and forms of presentation were: The Uprising, The Watch that Ends the Night, and Mackie Messer as either tableaux or pantomimes, "Gamesmanship" as a dramatic skit, and "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage" as a musical comedy. The judges declared the Senior Class the winner.

Alma Mater

*Our Alma Mater glorious,
With loving hearts and proud,
We crown thee all victorious
And sing thy praise aloud.
In loyalty we serve thee
And strive to heed thy call,
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Through self to conquer all.*

*You give unfailing kindness
If trouble meet us here;
You foster all our pleasures
And make them seem more dear.
Nor time, nor care, nor sorrow
Can these fair days erase,
But they, with each to-morrow
Help us new tasks to face.*

*Like Breath of Spring's fresh morning
That lifts the heart to song,
When courage droops and wavers
And paths seem gray and long,
Will come thy dauntless spirit
To help us on the way.
Mount Vernon, O, Mount Vernon!
Hold fast they tender sway.*

*The changing years may bring us
Some longed for dream of bliss,
Yet memory will cherish
A sympathy we miss.
In hours of joy or sadness,
What'er our need may be,
Mount Vernon, O, Mount Vernon!
Thy children turn to thee.*
